California Ranch News

Santa Barbara county's walnut crop, which is now being gathered, is 125 per cent of normal, County Farm Adviser B. L. Hagglund announced recently after a survey of the orchards. Although the crop is above normal, the yield is expected to approximate that of normal years, inasmuch as extensive orchards in the Carpinteria section have been removed in favor of lemons.

Considerable excitement was experienced at Tulare recently when a new seasonal high record for San Joaquin Valley cotton was set with the sale of 500 bales of local middlings at 25.31 cents per pound. Thirty-five to fifty points were added for grades, netting the growers 25.82 cents on best middlings. This cotton was contracted for delivery prior to January 1, 1928. Several previous deals had been reported in various parts of the valley ranging from 23 to 25 cents.

The grain production of Tehama county this year was about normal. This is according to Harry K. Willard, head of the Red Bluff Flour Mill, who estimates that in the neighborhood of 150,000 bags were produced. The yield per acre is a little higher this year, while the total acreage planted to grain was a little less. A portion of the acreage usually planted to grain was not put into account of the uncertain weather in the early part of the season.

Sixty per cent of the largest peach crop ever produced in the Arrowhead district will be left on the trees this year because of unsatisfactory market conditions, according to C. F. Krass, manager of the Arrowhead Suburban Farms company. Picking was stopped, says Mr. Krass, after less than 5000 boxes had been taken from 220 acres of orchard.

Peach rust, which has resulted in the loss of thousands of dollars both to peach growers and the canners of the state, has at last been checked. That is according to experts in pomology at Davis, Yolo county. The disease made its appearance in epidemic form in certain peach sections of the state during the season of 1926, when it was estimated that it caused a loss of about $400,000. At present such methods as seem satisfactory are being used, but repetition and checking is necessary before the material will be published in bulletin form and the experiments discontinued. Meanwhile growers are being kept posted as to the progress of the experimental work, those who have followed the advice of the experimenters report satisfactory results.

Seven short years ago Santa Maria Valley was one of California's wide open spaces. Today its broad, fertile acres are intensively cultivated, and are producing vegetables at the rate of nearly $3,000,000 worth annually.

The poultry, rabbit and pigeon show at the State Fair this year was the largest and most complete in the history of the fair, some 3309 specimens being on display in all exhibits of this department, an increase of 1110 over last year, and three times the 1925 figure.

The indicated production of rice in the United States for 1927 as estimated in the bureau of agricultural economics last month is about 39,336,000 bushels, a decrease of about 4 per cent as compared with 1926. This decrease in the United States total is due entirely to an estimated reduction in yield in the southern states, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas, since the production in California is expected to be over 12 per cent larger than the relatively large crop in 1926. If these predictions materialize, California will continue definitely on an export basis during the 1927-28 season, with probably more rice to export than in 1926-27.

Interception of an Oriental peach moth infected shipment of peaches at the Yuba Pass quarantine station maintained by the Department of Agriculture has just been reported by G. H. Hecke, director. The discovery of the moth was the first on record in the State. The infected peaches were purchased by a tourist in Minnesota, although grown in another district. The pest is said to be general in several localities in the east and is one of those under strict quarantine in this State.

Golden State
News of Interest to All

The legislative committee, created to investigate the question of compulsory automobile liability insurance in California and to inquire and report also upon automobile traffic regulation in the State, was organized last week at its initial meeting in the state building.

With one theater well under way for L. L. Cory on the site of the old Hippodrome on Fresno street, Fresno, construction of a second modern playhouse was started there last week, when application was filed for the new $300,000 Pantages house, which will go up at Fulton and Tuolumne streets, Fresno. Several subcontracts have been let for preliminary work.

It is estimated that the 3-cent gasoline tax in California will bring in approximately $30,000,000 per year during the twenty-year period for which the law is to be effective, according to the National Automobile Club. The amount will be expended one-third for construction of new state highways; one-third for maintenance of existing highways, and one-third for the general road fund of the fifty-eight counties, the latter amounts to be proportional to the motor vehicle registration of the county.

The net income for the State Real Estate Department of California from January 1, 1927, to June 30 amounted to $143,049, according to a statement submitted to State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson by Commissioner Stephen Barnson. During the first six months of the year, the department had a gross income of $220,129, while its expenditures amounted to $77,079, the statement shows.

Fresno and valley residents last week felt their homes rock, saw their dinner dishes shift and heard them rattle, saw floor and table lamps and chandeliers sway, and wondered, for a few moments, what it was all about. Soon, however, they realized they had experienced an earthquake, the most distinct which has been felt in the San Joaquin Valley in years.

California railroads fired the opening gun in a new phase of the "transportation war" last week when they obtained permission to reduce certain classes of freight rates to San Joaquin valley and Monterey peninsula points. In an order issued by the Railroad Commission the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe companies are authorized to reduce their rates 10 per cent on canned goods, sugar and dried fruits between San Francisco and the points named. The new tariff goes into effect immediately.

The death toll of accidents involving steam and electric railroads in California from July 1, 1926, to June 31, 1927, was 349 lives, the annual report of the transportation division of the Railroad Commission revealed last week. Attempts of motorists to "beat the train to a crossing" resulted in far the largest number of accidents, with 143 killed and 847 injured in 1638 collisions, it is declared by J. G. Hunter, engineer in charge of the division. All other accidents total 2580, with 206 killed and 3735 injured.

The Railroad Commission will have ready for distribution to the public within a few days copies of a phamphlet on "Practice and Procedure before the Railroad Commission of California," it was announced last week. The 36-page booklet is prepared by Carl I. Wheat, attorney for the commisison, and goes extensively into the jurisdiction and powers of that body and the requirements for presentation of applications and other legal forms.

Wide interest in the Pacific Foreign Trade and Travel Exposition, to be held in San Francisco from November 11 to 20, holds throughout Central America, according to a message received by local officials from Dr. L. S. Lowe in South America. Dr. Lowe is director-general of the Pan-American Union. "This is a large and important plan, and I am certain that the exposition will have a large and far-reaching influence," he wrote, in pledging the aid of his organization. Displays of the varied products of Latin America will be part of the exposition. Bulletins of the Pan American Union are carrying announcements of the exposition, published in English, Spanish and Portuguese, all over North and South America.

A county-wide effort is being made by chamber of commerce, service clubs and other organizations this week to secure a United States weather bureau for Stockton. The Stockton chamber of commerce led the campaign by adopting a resolution calling upon Congressman Charles F. Curry to assist in securing the station. A number of similar resolutions citing the importance of such a station from an agricultural standpoint have since been adopted by other organizations.

WEATHER FAVORS HARVEST DURING PAST 2 MONTHS

In the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, changes in volumne of production and trade during August, 1927, were largely seasonal in character. Total volume of industrial output approximated that of a year ago, and volume of distribution were greater than in August, 1926. In view of the fact that there was one more business day during August, 1927, than during August, 1926, industrial output, when figured on a daily average basis, was probably smaller and average daily volume of trade only slightly larger in August of this year than in August a year ago. Demand for credit at member banks did not reveal the usual seasonal increase during August and early September and discounts at the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco declined to the lowest point since February, 1925. On September 10, 1927, the rediscount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco was reduced to 3½ per cent for all classes and maturities of paper. The former rate of 4 per cent had been in effect since November 23, 1925.

A late agricultural season has contributed to the hesitation in business during the past few months, but conditions during August were favorable for agricultural operations, and harvesting of the district's crops has progressed rapidly. Yields are generally larger than a year ago. Although quality of some crops is reported to be below that of last year, price returns to growers are reported to be generally satisfactory and marketing, although reflecting the late season, is preceeding in large volume.

Volume of employment, and total wages paid in the district's chief industries were smaller during August, 1927, than during August, 1926. Value of building permits issued and daily average output of lumber were approximately the same as in August a year ago, but flour milling was less active.

Daily average railway freight carloadings and retail sales were larger than last year, but sales at wholesale, although larger than in July, 1927, were smaller in August, 1926.

This bank's seasonally adjusted index of daily average check payments (bank debits) in 20 principal cities of the district declined from 127 in July, 1927, (1923-1925 average—100) to 123 in August, 1927. A year ago the index stood at 121.

The Tehama County Fair, to be held at the Fair Grounds east of Red Bluff, September 29th to October 1st will house the biggest exhibit of dairy cattle this year of any fair in Northern California except the state fair. This is the declaration made by Donald Smith, farm adviser for Tehama County. Last year the Tehama Fair exhibit 100 head of registered stock and this year efforts will be made to exhibit 150 head. The growing importance of this county in dairying is cited by Smith as a cause for the interest in this exhibit.

The prospect of light orange and lemon crops for the 1927-28 season is faced by California, the Department of Agriculture announced last week. Both Navel and Valencia oranges are only 67 per cent of normal, it was declared, as compared with 82 last year and a 10-year average of 74. The department said this is due to "drop" which affected Navel oranges during June and later extended to the Valencias. The report predicted it will result in "the lightest orange crop in several years."

Registration Grows

As was anticipated last week, the enrollment at the Campbell Union Grammar School this week showed a marked increase.

The greatest number registered last year was 646, while Monday's total was 697, a gain of 51 for this early in the year.

Work for the year in all lines has started out with vigor and every thing points to a very profitable and happy term.

MORELAND CLUB AT LUNCHEON

The Moreland Good Will Club started its year's work with pleasure and zest last week with a luncheon served by the directors and ex-directors at the home of the president, Mrs. George Payne.

The room was tastefully decorated in the club colors, red and green and the place cards each bore a miniature red paper rose. The guests were seated at small tables, prettily arranged.

One of the pleasant features of the afternoon was a recital by the members of their summer's experiences, whether of work or pleasure. Several gave very interesting accounts of trips to the wilds.

The regular program began with the salute to the flag, singing of "America, the Beautiful" and repeating the club Collect.

Mrs. Earl, chairman of the building committee, showed the plan which had been worked out for remodeling and improving the club hall, long known as the Moreland Hall. That the committee, Mrs. Earl, Mrs. Holtum and Miss Cassidy, assisted by the president, had put in a busy vacation, was clearly evident and the results were wonderfully satisfactory. A spirit of enthusiastic harmony prevailed and every indication points to an early fulfillment of a vision of many years. The war put a stop to plans for finishing the hall and conditions did not seem favorable for the undertaking, but now, with a good nest egg in the treasury and promise of other assistance, the club hopes soon to entertain its friends and club sisters in more comfortable and attractive quarters.

The next meeting on October 5 will be at the home of Mrs. H. P. Bean on Williams road.

The study of Alaska will be opened by Mrs. Zettle with a paper on "Fisheries of Alaska."

Club at Gatos Tues.

Edward C. Merrill as chairman at Kiwanis luncheon introduced J. Walter Crider of Los Gatos, who gave a very interesting talk on Chinese rugs. Although China is one of the oldest civilizations and some of their rugs are two thousand years old, China has been in the rug market commercially for only about 20 years. Because of their patience and painstaking labors, their rugs are of the finest. All are hand made and the patterns are of old motifs and symbols handed down through the ages based on happiness, good luck, prosperity and long life. Hand made rugs are cheaper than machine made as the interest on the installation of a machine plant would be more than the cost of hand labor. Chinese are superstitious of machinery. Time to a Chinaman means little and all he desires is his chow. His wage is about 6 cents a day and when he is at work he is happy as evidenced by his singing. Very few rugs are made of camel's hair due to the scarcity of the raw material.

Mr. Crider exhibited several beautiful sculptured rugs and an interesting collection of oriental shoes with descriptions of the customs of various classes wearing them.

Ralph Hyde announced the meeting of the Kiwanis committee with the Country Woman's Club committee early next week to formulate plans for the coming community building benefit, which is scheduled to be staged early in December. The balance indebtedness on the building is $300 and it is hoped that this may be wiped out by the coming performance.

Kiwanis members were urged to join up with the night school choral class in order to give the new organization a good start. The class will be organized Thursday evening, October 6, at the high school, with Mr. Benj. Edwards as director.

Next meeting of the club will be held with Los Gatos as host at Hotel Lyndon, Thursday noon, October 6. Dean Whitman, trustee and chairman of inter-club relations committee, will be chairman and the program is to be put on by the Campbell. The committee promises a surprise for the hour.

CAMPBELL CHORAL CLUB TO ORGANIZE

Considerable interest is being shown in the organization of the night school classes to begin next week at the high school. Many of the citizens of the district are particularly enthusiastic over the establishment of the choral music department with Mr. Benj. Edwards of San Jose as director. Plans are underway to give this department something to work for from the beginning. The first gathering of this branch of the work will be held at the high school, Thursday evening, October 6.

For several years the need of a choral organization, in the community, has been felt. The obstacle heretofore has been lack of leadership. Now, as a part of the Evening School, organization will be simplified and choral work should flourish under the leadership of Mr. Benjamin Edwards, the conductor who has been secured.

Mr. Edwards is a graduate of Denver College of Music, and has taken post-graduate work in three other universities. He holds teaching certificates in Colorado, Oregon and California. He taught a year at the College of the Pacific, Stockton, and last year at San Jose State Teacher's College, where his solo and ensemble was enthusiastically received by the entire student body. Mr. Edwards has had seven years' experience as a conductor of choirs, choruses, orchestras and bands, besides solo and ensemble work of all kinds during a still longer period.

As vocal ensemble is one of Mr. Edwards' specialties, we may look for an enjoyable and instructive year for the Choral Society and an enrichment of the musical wealth of the community.

The orchestra, under Mr. Carey, will undoubtedly bring instruments into use htat would otherwise be remembered seldom if at all.

Let's all be ready to boost, sing and play the way to a worthwhile musical year for Campbell.

The choral society will meet on Thursday evening at 7:15, beginning October 6. The place is the main building of the High School.

The orchestra will meet in the High School Annex on Friday evening at 7:15, beginning October 7.

FORELADIES GUESTS

On Friday, September 23, the inspectors of the canning department of the J. C. Ainsley Packing Company, entertained their foreladies at a daintily appointed luncheon at the home of Mrs. Mary Williams.

The guests were Mesdames J. O. Souto, A. I. Cramer, J. M. Harris, E. P. Greene and M. Ethel Davis, and the hostesses, Mesdames O. H. Dosh, J. A. Hail, J. H. Prout, H. Fulton, F. Benner, Lucy Smith and Mary Williams.

Consolidated Meets at Campbell Oct. 4

The regular monthly meeting of Santa Clara County Consolidated Chambers of Commerce will be held at noon, October 4, in the beautiful city library at Campbell.

Reports on the State Fair Exhibit, the County Exhibit in the Oakland Bank, September 18 to October 1, discussion of plans for the Annual Prune Week in November, and other matters of concern to the county's welfare and advertising, will be on the program.

All those interested are invited to attend by the officers of the organization.

FOOTHILL COUNCIL AT CAMPBELL

The first meeting of the Foothill Council, for the new year, was held at the Campbell Grammar School, Monday. A meeting of the board of managers took up the time until noon when a picnic lunch was enjoyed in the cafeteria

The afternoon session was presided over by the president, Mrs. George Schuyler, who called upon presidents and chairmen for a report on the proposed work for the year. Responses were made giving an outline of work to be taken up.

The first conference will be held by Mrs. Cardiff at San Mateo; one by Mrs. Droge in Palo Alto in November, and one by Mrs. Cardiff at Salinas in March.

The first meeting of the sixth district since the dividing of the district will be held at San Jaun, October 17.

The president has five objectives for the new year which she hopes to make a success, viz:

1. Twenty-four hour service in replying to letters.
2. Double membership.
3. Magazine sale for every officer and chairman.
4. Emblems for all.
5. Adult education.

Dr. W. I. Merrill, accompanying himself at the piano, sang, "I Love a Little Cottage," "That Wonderful Mother of Mine."

Rev. J. H. Bennett, late of London, gave a fine talk on his views in regards to schools of California and England, and the need of spiritual training along with school studies.

GRANGE VISITED BY STATE MASTER

The grange held a very successful banquet Tuesday evening, which was enjoyed by a large gathering. The table decorations were unusually beautiful, consisting of autumn leaves, a variety of flowers and wonderful bunches of grapes.

There was a fine program of music during the lecturer's hour provided by the grange orchestra Three munbers were given that were highly appreciated by a well filled hall.

Mr. Leroy Anderson reported on the Grange Debenture Plan as set forth by The National Master in the National Grange Monthly for September. This plan provides for the asistance of cooperative and other exporters of agricultural products, and is being sponsored by the national grange, a resolution was adopted by the grange endorsing the plan.

A class of nine new members were initiated in the third and fourth degrees by the drill team, the work being put on in the most perfect manner, which was much enjoyed by those present.

State Master Harrison was present and inspected the work of the officers of the grange of which he spoke in trms of high approval. Mrs. Harrison, who is organizer for juvenile granges of the State, gave an interesting account of her work.

Mr. E. T. Petitt, past State master, and several members from other granges were present.

Octobr 11 will be the next meeting of the Orchard City grange at 7:30 p. m., which is the hour of meeting through the winter months.

West Point Exams Will be Given Soon

An examination will be held at the postoffices at San Jose and Santa Barbara, California, on October 15, 1927, at 9 o'clock a. m. by the United States Civil Service Commission to certify a list of eligibles to the United States Military Academy at West Point. Any desirous of taking this examination should immediately notify Congressman A. M. Free, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., and he will issue an authorization to take the examination.

Santa Cruz Road Conditions Good

The coast road from San Francisco to Santa Cruz is in excellent condition with exception of approximately thirteen miles between Halfmoon Bay and San Gregorio, according to the National Automobile Club. Several crews are at work on the bad stretch, resurfacing it, and extremely poor conditions will be encountered where the work is in progress. From San Gregorio to Santa Cruz is in exceptionally good condition.

Some people would have to work overtime if they practiced what they preach.

CALIFORNIA WOODS SAFE

We can understand the fears of the woman overtaken by night in the Sierra who spent it in a tree "for safety from wild animals." But, bless her heart, there are no wild animals in California that anyone needs to be afeared of at night. They are all terrible scairt of human beings. The biggest and most powerful would run the other way if they suspected the woman's presence. Only one ravening varmint of the woods comes to mind that has to be dodged. That is the night- prowling big black ant. Woman or man must get out of the way when he comes around. But though he can bite, we never heard of his devouring or maining any poor lost human. At night in the woods owls ask lugubrious yuestions, but nothing ever comes of them. There just isn't anything to happen, except sunrise, and that has a bright way of putting to flight all these undounded fears.

BUILDING LOTS AND BIRDS

The real estate business is usually hostile to life. A company operating in the village of Euclid, Ohio, has found a way to combine the two.

Allotting a tract of 350 acres, the company is reserving a wooded section of 55 acres near the middle as a permanent park and bird reserve, which will afford refuge to birds, squirrels, fishes and other harmless forms of wild life. To insure the success of the idea, the company says it will not sell building lots to any but bird-loving residents who will agree to put up and maintain at least two bird houses apiece.

The community is entering into the plan with enthusiasm, seventy families in the neighborhood, outside of the allottment, are voluntarily living up to the requirements.

That will surely be a pleasant place to live in, for everybody there and especially for the children. Moreover, the real estate company will probably make a good profit along with the benefit it confers on the community.

Our industrial civilzation so far has been devastating to wild life, natural beauty and simple outdoor recreations. Now there is movement the other way, cooperating with nature instead of destroying her works. Ex.

Dempsey's Glass House.—A few days before Dempsey met his Waterloo at Chicago, the San Francisco Examiner ran this splendid editorial: "Jack Dempsey, one of the roughnecks about to contest for the championship in the national American sport of prizefighting, issues a letter attacking the other contender. This paper would think that a battling bruiser who lives in the peculiarly frail and fragile kind of a glass house which Dempsey inhabits would refrain from throwing stones. Someone might throw a stone in return and recall the fact that Dempsey, with all his bravado and brutality in the ring, did not have enough genuine bravery to go to the front during the war when other men of his age and able-bodiedness were fighting for their country. Prizefighting is a debased and demoralizing kind of sport, but with all that even the lowbrows who support these brutal and brutalizing contests have enough self-respect to prefer to see the championship of their class and kind held by a man who had enough physical courage and patriotic spirit to go to the front when his country needed genuine fighting men."

TERM "DAGO" IS NOT WHAT IS THOUGHT

A correspondent asks for the origin of the word "dago." The question is frequently asked although the common dictionaries give an inkling of the matter. Like many another nickname, "dago" has an honorable origin. It is a corruption of the Spanish name "Diego." It was originally applied by English sailors to Spaniards because so many of these were named Diego, who is natural, since San Diego de Compostella is the patron saint of Spain. From Spaniards the nickname was extended to Portuguese and then to Italians; in other words, to Mediterranean Latins generally. By that time the meaning of the word had been forgotten, and as Italians did not know what it meant they suspected it was something derogatory and so resented it. But, since San Diego is in English Saint James, calling a man "dago" is about the same as calling him "Jim."—Ex.

How Safe are Safes?

A quarter of a century ago iron safes in the house or office were believed to afford a fair measure of protection for personal possessions. Today, however, such safes are easily looted. Science has surrounded the bank safe deposit vault with devices and protective systems that set at naught the best efforts of the most highly-skilled cracksman. The American Trust Company vaults are of the highest type of fire- and burglar-proof construction. Within these impregnable vaults may be rented safe deposit boxes of convenient and varyiug sizes at a cost of four dollars a year and upward. Special storage vaults also are provided for the accommodation of bulky articles of value.

POSTMASTERS MEET AT GILROY

The initial meeting of the Central California Coast Counties Postmasters' Association was held at Gilroy, Wednesday afternoon and evening, at the invitation of that genial genleman and royal host, Postmaster Tracy Leanard.

The luncheon was enjoyed at Milias Hotel, with the following present: Tracy Learnard, Gilroy; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Howe, Santa Cruz; Hugh Judd, Watsonville; Dan McClosky, Hollister; Mr. and W. C. Werry, Palo Alto; F. L. Huff, Mountain View; Miss Bernice Downing, Santa Clara; Mrs. Jennie Gallant, San Martin; H. C. Smith, Campbell; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Barnes, Morgan Hill; At this time temporarry officers were elected: Tracy Learnard, president; Bernice Downing, secretary. Postmasters H. L. Todd, John R. Chase sent their regrets at not being able to attend.

Following the lunch, the party was transported to Gilroy Hot Springs and to the camp on the Bodfish road, which is nearly completed between Gilroy and Watsonville through the mountains.

On returning they halted at the "Mill Road Park," on the Learnard ranch where a barbecued dinner was served under the big oaks, with Mayor Princevalle as chef.

In departing, "the force" voted Mr. and Mrs. Learnard, Mayor Princevalle and the Gilroy citizens a big vote of thanks for their entertainment.

The next meeting will be held early next year and the place has not been decided on.

Plans are perfected for the joint P.-T. A. reception for high and grammar school teachers and school boards to be held this evening. Mr. Edwards, the director of Campbell's Choral Club, will sing.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Whitman were among those present at a dinner party given by Mrs. Eva Gamble in her home in San Jose, Sunday. Included in the guest list were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoyt and son, of San Jose, Mrs. Gamble Sr, of Knoxville, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Wells Ammerine and sons, of Oakland, and Mrs. Gamble's sister from Modesto.

Reception Supper

On wednesday evening, October 5, at 6:30 o'clock, there will be a fellowship supper at the Methodist Church, to be followed by the regular official board meeting and prayer meeting.

After prayer meeting, at 8:30, there will be a further social gathering, at which the pastor, W. C. Robins and his wife, will be welcomed back to Campbell for their second year. All members and friends of the church are invited to attend.

ANNA HAYES

Mrs. Anna Hayes, one of Campbell's older residents passed to her heavenly home on Saturday, after a lingering illness, but with no suffering at the last. Death came as a happy release and her many friends and relatives, while realizing their own loss, could not wish her back.

Mrs. Hayes was a native of Illinois, born at Chenoa, August 8, 1862. She was married to Samuel L. Hayes, February 18, 1886 and they came to Campbell seven years later.

Three children survive, all of whom have ben at home more or less for some time, Mathilde A. Price of Sacramento, Jesse E. Hayes, Palo Alto and Ruth Ortman, Tientsin, China.

There are five grandchildren also, Wallace D., Margaret and Mary Hayes, Virginia and Vance Price.

During her long residence in Campbell, until failing health prevented Mrs. Price was one of the faithful and earnest workers in the Methodist Church, as well as having a wide group of social friends. Her cheerful presence was always a welcome addition to any gathering.

She was especially fond of flowers and very successful in growing them having beautiful gardens around her new home on Winchester road.

The many beautiful flowers sent for the funeral were taken immediately afterward to the County Hospital, where they gave pleasure to the patients. As in life, she enjoyed giving her flowers, her family knew it would be her wish that the last flowers sent to her should also give joy to others.

The last rites were held at the home on Monday afternoon, led by Rev. W. C. Robins and interment was at Los Gatos Cemetery.

Union Notes

The first meeting of the year of We and Our Neighbors Club was at the club house which has been attractively arranged with bowls and baskets of lovely ferns and zennias of every color, the deep shades of autumn, blending with the lovely lighter tones. The hostesses were Miss Anna Kopp, Mesdames W. K. Nichols and Lloyd Holman.

Mrs. Arch Cilker, the new president, presided over the meetings, which opened in the usual form.

A list of the hostesses for 1927-28 will be printed and a copy given each member. A number of interesting affairs relative to the club activities for the coming year were discussed and planned.

Mrs. Arch Cilker in a most pleasing manner, presented to Mrs. Edwin Howes, in behalf of the club, a Federation pin. Mrs. Howes graciously responding. Miss Ruby Howes told of the historical places she had visited, showing pictures which she had taken while on her trip. It was altogether a most wonderful journey which Miss shared with the members. A rising vote of thanks was given to the speaker for her splendid talk which was greatly enjoyed.

The hostesses served very lovely refreshments. The guests being seated at one long table which wes very attractively arranged.

The hostesses for the October meeting will be Mesdames E. B. Scott, Paul Arnerich and William Cleland.

Mrs. Grace Myers of Stockton was a visitor at the home of Miss Kopp.

Miss Susie Christenson, librarian at the Alexander Hamilton Junior High School in Oakland, Miss Ann Christenson, head nurse of the surgical ward in the Berkeley Hospital, and Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Critchlow and Son, Kenneth, of San Jose, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Whitman last Saturday evening.

The annual meeting of Campbell Community Council and election of officers will be held at the Campbell Library, Friday evening, October 7, at 7:30 o'clock.

F. H. Cutting, president.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Miller attended the Grocers' Convention at Santa Cruz the first of the week and left yesterday for an auto trip to Oregon.

EMMA SOWER

The death of Mrs. Emma Sower, which occurred Sunday morning was a shock to her family and friends as she had been seemingly in her usual good health . The grim reaper came very suddenly in the early hours while she was asleep.

Emma Ziegler was born at West Liberty, Ohio, May 7, 1861, the eldest daughter of David and Nancy Ziegler. She resided there with her parents until 1881, when she was united in marriage to Edward E. Sower. Six years later they moved to Mount Victory, Ohio, where Mr. Sower was engaged in the hotel business.

In 1897 they disposed of their interest in Ohio and came to California and have since resided at Colton, Pasadena, Santa Barbara, San Jose and finally Campbell, to which they came in 1908.

Since coming to Campbell Mrs. Sower had been active in Christian Science work, having been reader for the Campbell society and a member of the Mother Church of Boston, Mass.

Surviving relatives are her husband, Edward E. Sower; three borthers, Rev. B. W. Ziegler, Findley , O.; Wm. A. Ziegler, Ridgeway, O., and Harry Ziegler of Los Angeles and a sister, Mrs. Kate Wooley, Raymond, O.

Funeral services were held Monday morning from Hocking and Williams' parlors and interment was at Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. Sower by his fellow townsmen in his sudden bereavement.

Cotton bolls are bursting on the 500 acres planted in Tehama County and it is likely that picking will be started before October 1st. Growers are expected to make big money this year in Tehama County, with a bumper crop free of any weevil, with an excellent price and an assured bonus. Tehama County is believed to be the most northern point in America where cotton is grown on a commercial scale.

More than 200,000 sacks of potatoes and onions and 10,000 tons of sugar beets will make up the record that will have been shipped from Lisbon Station, on the Sacramento Short Line. This is announced by L. H. Rodebaugh, traffic manager of the road. This tremendous crop has been developed wihin a comparatively short time, the 20,000 acres constituting the district having until recently been used exclusively for the cultivation of barley and for pasturage for sheep and cattle.

Harvesting of the almond crop in the district, the only section in Southern California where almonds are grown commercially, began the latter part of August and will be completed by the last of September. The crop this season is unusually light, according to R. H. Combs, manager of the Banning Almond Growers' Association.

Following the meeting of a committee of agricultural leaders and business men in the State Department of Agriculture last week, the date for the 60th annual fruit growers and farmers convention was tentatively set for the 17th and 18th of November. The meeting will be held in the Municipal Auditorium in Stockton. This was announced by G. H. Hecke, director of the California Department of Agriculture. The convention this year, it was announced, will be devoted almost exclusively to the subject of marketing and national representa-

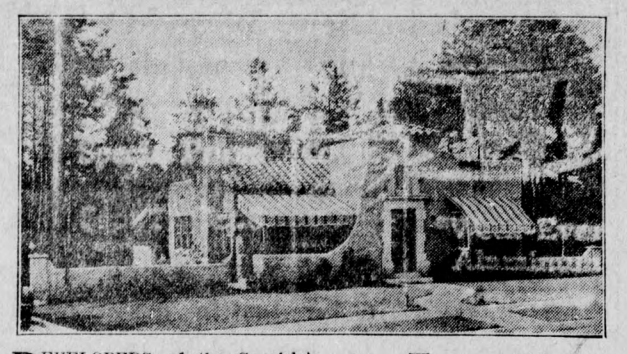
Compactness Characterizes Unique Alabama Residence

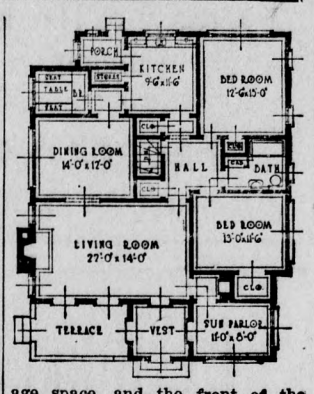


DEVELOPERS of the Spanish section in the Hollywood subdivision near Birmingham, Ala., selected concrete masonry because of its guarantee of permanent, fire-safe homes and because of its adaptability to the type of architecture they selected, and limited all construction within the section to this material.

One of the Spanish section homes is pictured. It is the residence of C. W. Brown and was designed by Turner and McPherson, architects, Birmingham.

Character in the small home has long been desired and until recently seemed difficult of achievement. Character is distinctly evident in this interesting residence, from its doorway with formal stone trim to the Spanish tile roof, and from the unusual lines of the front wall to the open breakfast porch in the rear. Bright colored awnings and a rough cement stucco texture are generally characteristic of the Spanish type.

The plan is compact and convenient, although the rooms are generously proportioned. There appears to be ample closet and storage space, and the front of the house has been designed to provide both a sun parlor and an open terrace. The two-story vestibule is an unusual and interesting detail.



The two bedrooms, the bath and the central hallway form a single unit, while the large living room, the dining room and the kitchen are conveniently linked.

Roughly speaking, the motor cop estimated the poor worm's pace at forty-five an hour.

New life new color for your living room

A modern principle in floor and table lamp construction improves home lighting

Soft, mellow, shadowless light evenly spread throughout the room—ample light for the whole family to read, write, sew or play cards—light that brings out the rich colors of draperies and furniture—light that is kind to your family's eyes.

Such lighting is now possible through a new principle in floor and table lamp construction. This new principle banishes the harmful gloom and glare that is so common with ordinary lamps.

The New Principle

The silk shade rests on an inverted glass reflector which surrounds the bulb so that direct rays from the electric lamp can never strike you in the eyes. It's this reflector that saves your eyes and diffuses the light. The result is a single floor or table lamp that really lights a room.

Our representative would gladly discuss home lighting with you. He'll tell you about the beautiful new floor and table lamps that are designed after this new principle of lighting.

A LOTTERY WITHOUT A WINNER

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

(There is presented herewith the first of a series of articles exposing the wiles of sharpers who are after your money.)

ALMOST unbelievable amounts are lost to the American people annually from unwise ventures. This loss, estimated at nearly one billion dollars a year, is accounted for when you take into consideration that practically all of the money "invested" in numerous fake schemes and half-baked projects is forfeited by the investors. In presenting this series of articles regarding sharp practices and various kinds of swindles we hope to prevent thousands of people from falling into the traps already set for them by irresponsible and unscrupulous promoters.

W R. MOREHOUSE

Through the use of only actual cases selected from several thousand, it is hoped to prove conclusively the futility of taking a "gambler's chance" with your savings, for as in a lottery without a winner you are bound to lose. Much of the material here used has been supplied by the Better Business Bureaus throughout the United States which are non-profit organizations serving the investor without charge and acting wholly in the public interest. Read these cases and then file them away for future reference, for sooner or later you may find yourself on the verge of "taking a leap in the dark",—of speculating with your savings as the people here told about were inveigled into doing.

A "good front" has put over more crooked deals than any other one thing. Every irresponsible promoter specializes in putting on a "good front" in his dealings with those whom he fleeces out of their savings. Whether or not he is successful is due to a large degree on how good a front he is able to put on. In motion pictures, the sets, or "props" as they are called, supply the setting for the scenes. They are used to portray things that seem large, things that seem grand and beautiful. Peer behind those sets and what do you see there? You see that the attractive fronts are supported by braces made of the cheapest, knottiest and poorest timber imaginable.

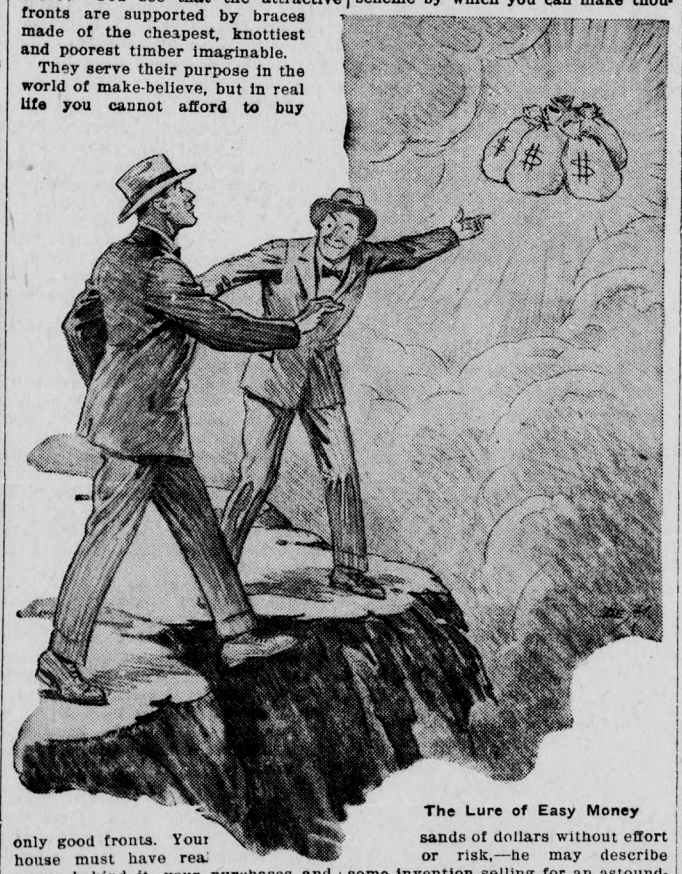
They serve their purpose in the world of make-believe, but in real life you cannot afford to buy only good fronts. Your house must have real rooms behind it, your purchases and investments real values. In the field of wild-cat financing if you peer behind the "good front" which the promoter puts on you will find that it is supported only by deception, dishonesty and fraud.

Unscrupulous persons of the "good front" type are expert actors in the role of "big brother" to inexperienced investors with money at their command. As protector and advisor to the widow and the inexperienced, which they claim to be, they are in reality wolves in sheep's clothing.

Gaining the Victim's Confidence

In personal appearance they are impressive. As conversationalists they are convincing. As students of the traits of human nature they rate high. In short, they know how to stalk their prey successfully. With Satanic cunning they fall in line with their intended victim's likes and dislikes, his viewpoint and his hobby, and when they have gained his favor and trust they grow more and more confidential, presently taking a great interest in his welfare and happiness. Before long they are offering advice and pointing out how he can better his own interests by making a new disposition of his available cash or by selling his present good securities and buying others recommended by them.

Your promoter will draw upon your imagination and paint a picture of a scheme by which you can make thousands of dollars without effort or risk,—he may describe some invention selling for an astounding sum, or depict the prospects of a fabulous mine or oil company that is going to double and treble in value over night. As a climax he may paint the picture of a vine-covered cottage which is to be yours in your old age, with its radiantly burning fire on the hearth and with all the luxuries that go with a happy home. And finally, he may paint you sitting before this fire, happy and contented—independent for life, as the result of an investment made according to his advice.



The Lure of Easy Money

But there is a great difference between what you get and what the wild-cat promoter paints in the imagination of his victims. By the lure of easy money he leads them over the precipice of financial ruin. Instead of old-age ease and comforts there usually results poverty and privation.

(The next article in this series will tell of a clever scheme practiced in many parts of the country by which the unwary are robbed of their money.)

What is believed to be the first four-year high school course in aeronautics ever offered in California will be given during this term at the Galt Joint Union high school, Sacramento, according to an announcement by Principal William Rutherford. The course will include instruction in airship design and construction.

Mrs. Daisy M. Lorentzen, said to be the first woman in California ordered to pay alimony to her husband, Harold J. Lorentzen, pending settlement of her suit for divorce, last week was ordered to appear in court to explain why she had failed to do so.

That California's rice crop will be more than a million bushels greater than the crop of 1926, is the estimate made by E. E. Kaufman, federal state crop statistician. Kaufman predicts a crop this year of 9,104,000 bushels. Last year's crop was 7,986,000 bushels. The present crop Kaufman reports, shows no change in condition from that of a month ago, and if present conditions prevail until after harvest will average twenty-five bags to the acre.

Reports from cotton-growing areas of California as of September 1, released by the Bureau of Aggricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, co-operating with the California Department of Agriculture, indicate that the crop is in generally good condition. The condition of the state crop was given as 90 per cent of normal, giving promise of a high yield should autumn weather be favorable for the maturing of the crop. Approximately 90,000 bales are expected to be harvested from the 127,000 acres of cotton now sanding in the state.

The California pack of canning peaches for this season already totals 9,774,000 cases, with almost all canneries in the state expecting to continue canning for several days. If the pack does not exceed ten million cases growers will receive $27.50 per ton under the agreement made between canners and growers in the Modesto section. If 26,000 additional cases are packed the price will drop to $25, with further reductions of $2.50 per ton for each added half million cases.

California aeries of the Fraternal Order of Eagles won a membership contest with the aeries in the state of Washington, according to a letter received by George Vice, state treasurer for the order, from Forrest B. Owens of Los Angeles, the state representative for the lodge. The contest closed June 1, last. California aeries secured at total of 7,147 new members during the year, while Washington aeries, including most of those in the Dominion of Canada, secured but 7,020.

Further indicative of the state's war upon drunken driving is a report issued last week by Frank G. Snook, chief of the division of motor vehicles, showing that the licenses of twenty-one California motorists were cancelled during August for that offense, bringing to forty-one the total for two months.

The licensing of 126 California produce dealers under the law enacted by the last legislature has been reported by the State Department of Agriculture, the administering force. There are yet sixty-three dealers who have paid their license fees, but to whom licenses have not been issued. Of the licensed dealers sixty are in Los Angeles, eight in San Francisco, nine each in Fresno and San Diego and six in Stockton.

Receipts of $33,096 from the sale of 12,548 acres of state school lands in San Bernardino, Los Angeles, Mendocino, Lake, Napa and Riverside counties during August has just been reported by Surveyor-General Kingsbury. The proceeds will be turned over to the school land fund, the interest from which is used by the Department of Education for appropriations to school districts for the state's share of their expenses.

A woman doesn't really begin to have faith in a man until other people lose it.

It's easy to secure the world's good opinion if you have the price.
